What investment services and advice can you provide me?

We offer customized investment advisory and financial planning services to retail investors. We offer advice on a full suite of securities, including equities, fixed income, mutual funds, ETFs, options, and similar investments. Our services are generally provided on a discretionary basis, which means that we have the power to buy and sell securities for your account without your prior consent. This authority is usually unlimited and remains in effect until you revoke it. We may provide non-discretionary investment advice, where we make investment recommendations to you and you decide whether to implement the recommendation. We do not give advice on any proprietary investment products.

We provide continuous and regular supervision of advisory client assets as part of our standard service to you. In addition, we will conduct ad hoc reviews if you change your objectives or risk tolerance, upon significant market and economic events, or if we change our investment strategy.

We require a total minimum fee of $4,500 and may elect, in our sole discretion, to waive any portion of this minimum. For portfolio values less than $300,000, clients may be able to obtain comparable services at a lower cost elsewhere.

Other Questions You May Have

Given my financial situation, should I choose an investment advisory service? Why or why not?

How will you choose investments to recommend to me?

What is your relevant experience, including your licenses, education, and other qualifications? What do these qualifications mean?

What fees will I pay?

Our asset-based fees are calculated as a percentage of the assets under our management, so our fees will rise and fall with the value of the assets we manage for you. As a result, we are economically incented to recommend that you place more assets in your account in order to increase the value of your portfolio, because as the value increases, so do our fees.

In addition to our fees, you may be charged transaction or asset-based fees by your custodian for its services. These fees vary depending on the custodian. Under a transaction fee arrangement, the more transactions effected in your account, the more fees you will pay, and high activity in your account does not assure positive portfolio performance. For custodians that charge their fees based upon a percentage of your assets, such fees may be more than would be the case if you are charged a transaction-based fee. Please be mindful of the effect of your portfolio size, the level of activity, and the rate of custodian asset-based pricing. Generally, large portfolios would be disadvantaged by paying an asset-based custodian fee versus a transaction-based fee. Some securities carry additional costs, such as mutual funds and ETFs. Financial planning fees will be charged at an hourly or fixed rate as agreed upon by you and the firm.

There are additional fees such as internal fees and expenses charged by mutual funds (i.e., 12b-1 distribution fees and management fees that are assessed within the mutual fund) and exchange-traded funds, product-level fees and commission for insurance-related products, postage and handling, transfer taxes, SEC fees for sales of securities.

You will pay fees and costs whether you make or lose money on your investments. Fees and costs will reduce any amount of money you make on your investments over time. Please make sure you understand what fees and costs you are paying.

You can find more information about our fees and costs under Item 5 of our Part 2A Brochure, available at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/290981>.

Other Questions You May Have

Help me understand how these fees and costs might affect my investments. If I give you $10,000 to invest, how much will go to fees and costs, and how much will be invested for me?

What are your legal obligations to me when acting as my investment adviser? How else does your firm make money and what conflicts of interest do you have?

When we act as your investment adviser, we have to act in your best interest and not put our interests ahead of yours. At the same time, the way we make money creates some conflicts with your interests. You should understand and ask us about these conflicts, because they can affect the investment advice we provide you. Here are some examples to help you understand what this means.

- Certain of our financial professionals are registered with Purshe Kaplan Sterling Investments, a FINRA broker-dealer, as well as licensed to sell insurance, which creates conflicts of interest regarding compensation.
- Our Managing Member is an owner of Hilltop Tax Solutions, LLC ("Hilltop Tax"), a limited liability company and affiliate of Hilltop Partners. Hilltop Tax provides tax and bookkeeping services. Clients of Hilltop Partners are advised there is a conflict of interest in that there is an economic incentive to recommend Hilltop Tax.

Additional information regarding conflicts of interest can be found in Items 5, 10, 11, 12, and 14 of our Part 2A Brochure, available at <https://adviserinfo.sec.gov/firm/summary/290981>.

Other Questions You May Have

How might your conflicts of interest affect me, and how will you address them?

How do your financial professionals make money?

Our financial advisors are paid a percentage of the fees we collect from you. As a result, we are incentivized to recommend that you add additional assets to your account. Our financial advisors may be paid sales, service or administrative fees for the sale of mutual funds or other investment products. Our financial advisors may receive commission-based compensation for the sale of securities and insurance products. We are incentivized to recommend that you add additional assets to your advisory account. We do not receive non-cash compensation.

Do you or your financial professionals have legal or disciplinary history?

Yes, certain Hilltop Partners professionals have disciplinary records, which can be found by accessing Investor.gov/CRS for a free and simple search tool to research our firm and our financial professionals.
